

Opal Valley delivers the highest quality without compromising the delicious sweet, yet mild taste of pasture fed lamb. They don't believe in adding antibiotics or hormones because our lambs are raised in a free-range natural environment. The lambs get to roam freely in wide-open stunning Aussie pastures where clover and rye grass are grown, just the way it should be. Clean, natural flavors with unbeatable tenderness is what you can expect from Opal Valley Australian Lamb.

Farmer Owned

Opal Farms are a cooperative business proudly owned by family farmers. This model gives them a distinct advantage over other other meat companies because they have access to the best products available.

Raising lamb flocks is a labor of love for their Australian family farmers. All of the lamb are born and raised in Australia. The farmers tend to their lamb day in and day out to ensure their health and well-being. They do this because they know to have the best lamb served on plates around the world, quality begins in the pasture with a naturally fed, free range lamb from down under.

Pasture Raised

Opal Valley is a leading North American Australian lamb brand for a reason. Australia's vast pastures, clean rainfall and abundance of sunshine, with advanced farm care result in a mild, leaner and more tender lamb famous for its delicious taste. Our Aussie lamb represents our bond to you of our steadfast commitment to quality, purity, consistency, sustainability, reliability and value from farm to fork.
